That's what we mean when we say:

Marmot®
FOR LIFE

1973.

Climbers Eric Reynolds and Dave Huntley began building down jackets and down sleeping bags in their dorm rooms at the University of California, Santa Cruz – certain they could build better jackets and bags for their mountain adventures. They called themselves “Marmots” after a climbing club bearing the same name.

1974.

Eric and Dave open a store in Grand Junction, Colorado selling a small inventory of handcrafted down jackets and sleeping bags made with the finest goose down they could find. Marmot was born.

1978.

Since its humble beginnings, Marmot has launched landmark fabric technologies – including the introduction of GORE-TEX® outerwear in 1978 – and ubiquitous industry leading products like the 8000-meter parka, the DriClime® Windshirt and the PreCip® Jacket.

2014.

Marmot has grown quite a bit since 1974, but one thing has never changed; our commitment to designing the highest quality performance product. In 2014 we celebrate our 40th Anniversary with you, our dedicated fellow Marmots.

NOW.

Marmot is frequently recognized for excellent product design. Our products have won numerous awards such as the Polartec® Apex, Outside Gear of the Year, Backpacker Editors' Choice, National Geographic Best of Adventure Gear, and more.
